

Outreach/Contacts: parties interested in also learning more about the Citizens Lebanon Water Supply Project and its potential impact on Eagle Creek Park/Reservoir may direct calls, emails, and/or letters to:

Governor Mike Braun, who promised transparency on the LEAP project under his administration: <https://www.in.gov/gov/contact-mike/> and click contact form.
Room 206 State House, 200 W. Washington St. Indy, 46204. (317.232.4567 to leave a message)

State Reps/Senators: <https://iga.in.gov/information/find-legislators>

Mayor Hogsett – responsible for Eagle Creek Park & reservoir, its amenities, and communicating with neighbors. As the owner of the reservoir, the City also maintains authority over the contract for the withdrawal of water from the reservoir by Citizens Water.
<https://www.indy.gov/workflow/write-to-the-mayor> (317.327.3601) Mayor’s Office, Suite 2501, City County Building, 200 E. Washington St., 46204,

Indianapolis City County Councilors: Contact information here

Citizens Energy: The public trust responsible for water, sewer, gas and steam provision in Indianapolis/Marion County. Citizens Water has also purchased utility assets and signed water wholesaling agreements in neighboring donut counties as they have expanded their territories and networks. Jeffery Harrison, President/CEO, and Maria Quintana, chairman of the board. Additional board members include Jeffrey Good, Christina Hicks, Moira Carlstedt, Daniel Appel, J.A. Lacy and Eric Scroggins. Members of the Board of Trustees include Dennis Bland (chairman), Brian Williams, Mel Raines, Carole Casto and Jamie Merisotis. 2020 North Meridian Street, 46202

Potential Future Contacts:

IURC: There is currently no active case pending on which to file comments on the project identified by Citizens as the “Citizens Lebanon Water Supply Project.” The most recent relevant case was Cause #45896 (Citizens Water Lebanon Wholesale), which was withdrawn by Citizens in 2023. On October 1, 2025 they filed Cause #46303 to purchase the water utility in Whitestown, with whom they already hold a contract to wholesale water.

IN Office of Utility Consumer Councilor: Typically, the OUCC reviews and responds to cases filed before the IURC. There are no Lebanon Water Supply cases currently pending before the IURC, however, online comments may be directed via their web page when a new case is filed. Abby Gray, 115 W. Washington St., 1500 South, Indianapolis, IN 46204, or email: uccinfo@oucc.in.gov

IEDC: Indiana Economic Development Commission – the quasi-state entity which has assembled 9000 acres north of Lebanon to create a concentrated economic development area designated as LEAP. Josh Richardson, newly appointed leader. TBD contact info.